Content Overview

Iran Under the Ayatollahs is organized into three main sections:

1. The Causes of the Revolution: This section explores the complex socio-economic and political factors that contributed to the downfall of the Pahlavi dynasty. It examines the impact of modernization, rapid urbanization, and economic inequality on Iranian society, as well as the role of political opposition and revolutionary movements.

2. The Revolution and its Aftermath: This section provides a chronological account of the revolution itself, from the initial protests and demonstrations to the overthrow of the Pahlavi regime and the establishment of the Islamic Republic. It analyzes the key events, actors, and ideologies that shaped the course of the revolution.
3. The Islamic Republic: This section examines the consolidation of power under Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and the establishment of the Islamic Republic. It explores the political, social, and economic policies of the new regime, including its impact on human rights, women's rights, and relations with the international community.
